Both of the game was well received by critics, but not so many some players who still believe that the changes developers had to try to incorporate into infinite warfare are not enough to redeem the series in their eyes. Nevertheless, if these two games are not enough to quench your thirst for fast FPS games, here are four other titles that are now sold in the App Store. Karsh Saurbh We will continue immediately with more tips and tricks for COD Mobile. | TIMESOFINDIA.COM | Last updated: October 7, 2019, 03:50 IST If in our yesterday's article, we shared some tips and tricks on Call of Duty: Mobile. We will continue immediately with more tips and tricks on how to improve your COD mobile experience so that you keep emerging victorious. Here we are. 1) Don't cluster together when rushing or leaving your base. Never do that. Maintain some gap, especially considering narrow routes. Another thing so far, someone with good long shot skills, can destroy most of the whole platoon from afar, because it allows the enemy to pour concentrated fire on your heap. 2) Do not run just for your friend in a single file. Most of the time, he kills you. 3) Don't all make a point to start taking a position at the same higher vantage point. Maybe you think it's a good idea and aiming down is a better way to kill; But it makes it easier for the enemy to focus the entire barrage, because most of you are at the top. Happens on many maps like Killhouse, which gives you a huge hall to fight it. In addition, you are visible to everyone and you are without a cap. If you really need to try this strategy, make sure that people from the team are at different high points and they are constantly moved after scoring. 4) It is better to carry the pistol as a side rather than a rocket launcher (SMRS) because it is faster and more accurate for fire. 5) When out of the ammo, try not to enter the enemy base in search of a fallen weapon. Even if the base is empty at that time, most of the time there will not find a weapon on the floor. Knives are a good choice then if you have one in your loadout. 6) Minigun Scythe acts as its name. Scythes through the enemy with your fire power. It is better to use Scythe instead of a wiper, which is a flame thrower. Why? Because, unlike Scythe, the flamethrower needs you to be close to your enemies and also, it feels clumsy to move the target if you face two more enemies. 7) Reaching a rocket strike (Predator Missile Airstrike) exactly on one target is more important than trying to make it drop toward their pile and fail to kill anyone. 8) If you throw a hunter killer drone visible to the enemy a few meters from you and he faces directly with him, so explodes and kills him, you'll get more hitpoints. 9) If you can quickly adapt between crouching and standing position, this is a plus. But if not, try to keep moving. 10) Don't take the opposite of roads, especially if you see them in an open space, such as on the road or in a wide open place on some maps, such as Takeoff. Scurrying at safety by going zigzag way is not embarrassing and gives you a chance to get back to them. In addition, your chances of success will be higher because you know their last position and now you know better where to look for them. 11) If the enemy is very far away, you just have to aim next to the red flashing points on his suit; You will be successful in taking it down most of the time. 12) Provide the pistol with silencers. This would ensure that your location is not disclosed to the enemy minimump when firing it, thus allowing you to remain unnoticed when you use this secondary weapon. It is also advisable to update the pistol with an extended magazine, as the expanded magazine can pack more bullets. 13) Sticky grenades are a better option than frag ones because they don't budge out of the place where they fall (they get stuck and then detonate, of course) and give you a better chance of causing maximum damage as the accuracy of the damage increases.
